PURPOSE

The Data Controller makes this document available to users to comply with the data protection laws in force and in the context of the new regulatory framework established by virtue of the provisions of Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data (hereinafter, the "GDPR"), and national data protection regulations, and to inform all website users regarding its terms of use.

By accessing this website you become a user and undertake to observe and strictly comply with the provisions set forth herein and any other applicable legal provision.

The Controller reserves the right to modify any type of information that may appear on the website without having to provide notification or inform you of these obligations, understanding publication on the Controller's website to be sufficient.

LIABILITY

The Controller is exempt from any type of liability arising from information published on its website if the information has been handled or entered by a third party unrelated to it.

IP ADDRESSES

The website servers may automatically detect the IP address and domain name you use.

An IP address is a number automatically assigned to a computer when it is connected to the Internet. All of this information is logged in a duly registered server activity file that enables the subsequent processing of the data in order to obtain purely statistical measurements that make it possible to know the number of outputs, the number of visits made to the website servers, the visit order, the access point, etc.

LINK POLICY

You may be redirected to third-party site content from this website. The Controller cannot always control the content that third parties enter on its website and so it assumes no type of liability regarding this content. In any case, the Controller states that it will immediately remove any content that may contravene national or international laws, public morals or order, and will immediately remove the redirection to said website and make the competent authorities aware of the content in question.

The Controller takes no responsibility for information or content stored, by way of example only, in forums, chats, blog generators, comments, social networks or any other means that enable third parties to publish content independently on the Controller's website. However, and pursuant to articles 11 and 16 of Act 34/2002 of 11 July 2002 on Information Society Services and Electronic Commerce, the Controller makes itself available to all users, authorities and security forces, actively engaging in the removal or where applicable blocking of all content that could impact or contravene national or international laws, third-party rights or public morals and order. If you consider there is content that could be classified as such on the website, please report it to the site administrator immediately.

This website has been reviewed and tested to ensure it works properly. A 24-hour a day, 365 day a year service level can be guaranteed in principle. However, the Controller does not rule out the possibility of certain programming errors or force majeure events, natural catastrophes, strikes or similar circumstances taking place that could make it impossible to access the website.

DATA PROTECTION

The Controller is deeply committed to complying with the data protection laws in force and in the context of the new regulatory framework established by virtue of the provisions of Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data (hereinafter, the "GDPR"), and national data protection regulations Organic Law on Data Protection and Guarantee of Digital Rights (LOPDGDD).

The Controller reports that it complies with Act 34/2002 of 11 July 2002 on Information Society Services and Electronic Commerce and will seek consent for your data to be processed for commercial purposes at all times.

INTELLECTUAL AND INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY

The website, including by way of example only, its programming, publishing, compilation and other elements needed to run it, the designs, logos, text and/or graphics are the property of the Controller or where applicable it has a licence or express authorisation from the authors.

All website content is duly protected by intellectual and industrial property laws.

Regardless of the purposes to which they were to be allocated, full or partial reproduction, use, exploitation, distribution or marketing requires the Controller's prior written consent in all cases. Any use not previously authorised by the Controller will be considered a serious breach of intellectual and industrial property laws and copyright.

Designs, logos, texts and/or graphics that do not belong to the provider and which may appear on the website belong to their respective owners and they are responsible for any possible controversy that may arise in their regard. In any case, the Controller has the express and prior consent of the owners.

The Controller expressly authorises third parties to be able to directly redirect to specific website content and states that in all cases they must redirect to the homepage of the Controller's website.

The Controller recognises the respective intellectual and industrial property rights in favour of their owners and a single mention or appearance on the website does not entail the existence of any right or responsibility over them by the Controller nor any support, sponsorship or recommendation on its part.

For all images where the design software allows, references have been included in relation to respective authorship and licences.

To make any kind of observation with regards possible breaches of intellectual or industrial property rights or any website content, please write to the email address indicated in the heading.

SSL

The Controller has contracted an SSL ("Secure Sockets Layer") certificate for the website.

An SSL certificate makes it possible to protect all the personal and confidential information that can be handled on a website, regardless of the information being transmitted, such as, for example, from any of the website contact forms to the server and even data entered to sign up to news bulletins or access protected areas, etc.

The website address will appear in green, with the "https" protocol that allows for secure connections from a web server to your browser to be activated.
